DRAGA & AUREL

The Rafiki antique brass bookcase by Draga & Aurel embodies a sculptural elegance that combines a design with ethnic elements to precious handcrafted materials, creating a versatile piece of furniture capable of enhancing any environment. The structure is characterised by a refined play of lines and surfaces that give the bookcase a monumental and sophisticated appearance. Each shelf seems to float between the vertical uprights and the asymmetrical bases, generating a dynamic effect of lightness that contrasts with the solid presence of the metal. The antique brass finish adds a timeless charm, evoking an archaic aesthetic reinterpreted in a contemporary key.
