ROBERTO LAZZERONI

The Yves console by Roberto Lazzeroni embodies a refined and versatile elegance, which stands out at the centre of the scene through pure lines and fine materials, confirming Baxter's ability to redefine the idea of exclusive design. Entirely covered in leather, the console gives a unique tactile sensation, transforming every contact into an experience of softness. The essential structure, embellished with a base in satin brass-plated, hand-brushed burnished or satin nickel-plated metal, expresses a perfect balance between robustness and formal delicacy, adapting to classic and contemporary environments. Available in both dressing table and desk versions, this leather piece of furniture becomes the functional and aesthetic hub of any environment, inviting you to experience the space with a sophisticated style where beauty blends with everyday use.

Structure: structure in MDF with leather upholstery.

Feet / Legs: base in metal with matte varnish with finish of choice.
