PIETRO RUSSO

With the stunning Ninfea ceiling bookcase, Pietro Russo creates a sophisticated piece of furniture, combining bold design, fine details and purposeful elegance. Ninfea is an open bookcase featuring a floor-to-ceiling tubular structure, maple wood shelves with a leather upholstered panel, and a cabinet finished with an extra-clear glass top complete with integrated lighting. The latter is the product of a wholly unique process. To craft this furniture piece, solid maple wood strips are meticulously hand-pressed together and interspersed with black leather components using an artisanal technique known as folding. The outcome is a bookcase that simultaneously acts as a divider, a storage unit, and a source of illumination, capable of enhancing any environment.

Model: assembly required.

Structure: matt black varnished tubular aluminium supporting structure.

Veneered maple shelves with additional leather-covered panel.

Small cabinet made by folding a panel obtained by pressing together strips of solid maple wood, black-stained leather and more strips of solid maple wood.

Plan / Surface: top in extra-clear, 8 mm thick screened-printed glass.

10 mm thick internal shelf in black, paste-dyed glass.

Decoration: shelf supports and details in satin brass.

Lighting: inner LED lighting 3000K - 10W/m - 110/240V power supply - 24V - 1880 lumens.
