DRAGA & AUREL

Altea is a suspended coffee table designed by Draga&Aurel with the intention of creating a sleek, harmonious design accessory that is entirely handmade, with unique nuances for each piece of furniture. The suspended wooden frame features front drawers with flap doors, all decorated by expert hands with coated resins in deep, vibrant shades. Altea's glossy finishes embellish any room with lilac, green or blueberry reflections, creating suspended support surfaces on which to store cherished objects.

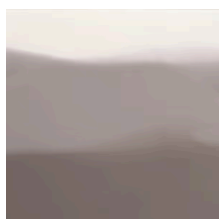

Structure: mDF frame with internal natural maple veneer and external dark brown stained ebony veneer and finished with 70 gloss water-based paint.

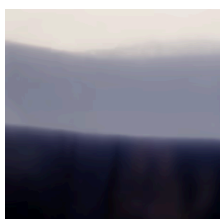

Decoration: drawer front panels and flap door decorated by hand with resins applied in shades chosen by the artist.
